GACC Statement on the Arizona Cannabis Product Voluntary Recall

WASHINGTON, D.C. (June 24, 2021)—The Global Alliance for Cannabis Commerce (GACC) issued the following statement in response to the Arizona Department of Health Services voluntary recall of certain cannabis products possibly contaminated with Salmonella:

“Thank you to the Arizona Department of Health Services for their diligence in protecting consumers. We wish anyone who may have consumed a contaminated cannabis product a speedy recovery and to adhere to the advice of the Arizona Department of Health Services. The lack of federal legalization prevents states from developing the uniform, consistent standards that are expected in other marketplaces in U.S. industries for product safety. The risk that such product supply shocks causes to patients would be mitigated by federal allowance of interstate commerce. GACC has adopted a framework for industry to develop consensus national standards and work in partnership with regulators to ensure safe products.” -Randal John Meyer, GACC Executive Director
