GACC Endorsement of the Marijuana Opportunity Reinvestment and Expungement (MORE) Act of 2021

The Global Alliance for Cannabis Commerce (GACC) is proud to announce its continued support and endorsement of House Judiciary Chairman Jerrold Nadler's (D-NY) Marijuana Opportunity Reinvestment and Expungement (MORE) Act of 2021.

The Act takes the important steps of both de-scheduling cannabis entirely from the Controlled Substances Act and works to make restitution for the damages of cannabis prohibition to minority communities. GACC's mission to accomplish a vibrant, competitive, and equitable national cannabis industry cannot be made possible without descheduling legislation like the MORE Act. The GACC looks forward to working with the bill sponsors as it moves forward through the legislative process to clarify the treatment of cannabis in interstate commerce and ensure that low barriers to entry permit all Americans to engage in the promise of the legal cannabis industry.

According to GACC Executive Director Randal John Meyer, "GACC was proud to be the first industry group to endorse the MORE Act and to lobby for its House passage last Congress. We again stand with Chairman Nadler and the Democratic House leadership in wanting to end cannabis prohibition. The time to end the policy of prohibition is sooner rather than later, and doing so in a comprehensive fashion with a baseline of removing cannabis from the controlled substances list is essential for the growth of industry with full access to capital lending, banking services, financial advisory services, and global markets for all businesses, small to large."

"We are at a pinnacle of finally normalizing cannabis federal legislation to mirror the will of the American people," added, Rezwan Khan, GACC President.

Sam Rodriguez, GACC Founding Board Member said, "Social Equity entrepreneurs should have every opportunity to compete and consumers should have the right to choose among the highest quality products available in the marketplace."
